FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TowerHunter, Inc. (www.towerhunter.com), a leading retained executive search firm, has expanded national operations by opening a new office in San Francisco.

Terry. Hindmarch, Managing Partner of the Phoenix-based firm, said that Bay Area resident Jeffrey A. Glickman, a TowerHunter Partner and Executive Vice President, will direct the San Francisco office.

Glickman's prior experience includes executive leadership roles in human resources management with major multinational corporations such as Borg-Warner and Caterpillar, a Bay Area pre-IPO startup in the renewable energy industry, as well as a number of Bay Area leadership posts in executive search, career development and outplacement.

"The appointment of Mr. Glickman, a local resident with impeccable credentials in developing and assessing executive talent, will enhance TowerHunter's capacity to provide first-class services for its clients and prospective clients in the Bay Area.," Hindmarch said.

Scott Smith, another TowerHunter Managing Partner, added, "The San Francisco office is intended as a major hub for serving employers throughout the western U.S., augmenting its Phoenix corporate office."

Glickman will have full access to the talented resources of the TowerHunter national team and its expertise in several industries, such as healthcare, insurance, high tech, manufacturing, financial services and startup companies.

“I welcome this opportunity to expand TowerHunter's presence in the Bay Area, applying its uniquely expert best search practices and client service-driven approach to benefit both our leading and emerging employers,” Glickman said.

TowerHunter, a firm that specializes in finding talented business leaders to fill critical leadership positions, also has an East Coast office in Washington, D.C. The address for the San Francisco office is 5820 Stoneridge Mall Road, Suite 100, Pleasanton, CA 94588. The phone number is 925-734-8755. Mr. Glickman can be reached at jglickman@towerhunter.com.
